Dear Ms. Foster:

A few months back we were trying to decide how to celebrate the 125th anniversary of our organizations. We wrestled with dinners, speakers, and potential entertainment. We are happy to report that we hit the jack-pot with Paul Mecurio. What a perfect choice for what turned out to be a perfect evening!!

Paul was fantastic. He did his homework before coming to Delaware. He made the time to learn about our agency, email and speak with staff and members of the committee. This resulted in a firm understanding of our culture, agency services and information about our attendees, particularly the politicians. Paul also did his own research about Delaware and key leaders. The result was a uniquely Delaware show. He performed for over an hour and kept everyone roaring in their seats. Because we are a small state, his humor reinforced our sense of community: everyone does know everyone. He has a quick wit and is spontaneous which made his routine not only funny but memorable.

Thank you for your help in identifying Paul for our special event. And, thank you for working with us so we could afford to bring Paul to Delaware. Attendees are still talking about our event. The "buzz" is great for our agency, but also wonderful for Paul. He is now a name in Delaware.

Sincerely,

Leslie Newman
