Dear Rainey:

I am writing today to rave about the work Paul Mecurio did for my TEVA Pharmaceuticals event on Wednesday, June 17th, 2009. TEVA is the world's largest maker of generic drugs and was hosting a "Year of Affordable Healthcare" Gala at the Mandarin Oriental in Washington, DC.

Paul was, first and foremost, absolutely hilarious during the two comedy sets he did for us. In addition, he was a gracious and welcoming emcee. Paul made the evening work. He had the perfect combination of original material and audience-involved improv.

Paul was willing and able to adapt to some last minute changes in the schedule and played perfectly off the crowd. His timing was spot-on.

We sincerely appreciate his willingness to attend our reception prior to the event itself. He also stayed with my friends and I after the event concluded to enjoy a celebratory glass of wine.

I look forward to working with Paul again in the very near future.

Best regards,

Bryan Pruitt
